The Bulletin
of the Associate Alumnae of Barnard College

PUBLISHED BY THE ASSOCIATE ALUMNAE
NEW YORK CITY

Do not miss the Benefit Performance of Madam Butterfly on Saturday evening, January 3, 1914. For tickets address "Barnard Benefit Committee," 7 West 51st Street. Tel. Plaza 5697. See page 2.

Remember the Alumnae "at homes" on Monday afternoons in the Undergraduate Study, beginning January fifth. All graduates, all students, all friends of Barnard are cordially invited.

The Luncheon, since the Opera takes the place of the winter reunion, will take place in the early spring. Non-members desirous of attending are urged to communicate with C. E. Morgan, 1173 Bushwick Ave., Brooklyn.

All graduates of Barnard are urged to join the Associate Alumnae—just send word to Mrs. Earl J. Hadley, Llewellyn Park, West Orange, New Jersey.

Are you interested in the intercollegiate "gym." class, in tennis, or in horseback riding? Communicate with L. Schoedler, 249 West 107 Street. See page 9.

THE BULLETIN

Of the Associate Alumnae

Vol. III

DECEMBER 1913

No. 1

So popular has the Bulletin proved, that the Directors have determined to publish it twice a year. May its pages carry to those who are not members of the Association, the enthusiasm of the workers. Our full news budget crowds out editorial comment. Read what the Undergraduates are doing; read what the Association is doing; read what individual alumnae are doing; read, and be convinced. Meet your friends in the "Gym." classes and at the Athletic Meets; join in the Costume Parade; and above all bring your friends to the Opera. Share in the work and the honor of raising the Quarter Century Fund—$2,000,000 for Barnard.

THE QUARTER CENTURY FUND

Already the fund grows apace. Last Commencement the Dean announced that about a quarter of a million (now about half a million) had been paid or pledged. Of this, about $17,000 has been contributed by Barnard students. Miss A. G. Chase, Chairman of the Fund Committee gives the following figures: '93, $475; '96, $1,043; '97, $25; '98, $170; '99, $500; '00, $635; '01, $3,395; '02, $500; '03, $615; '04, $1,200; '05, $818; '06, $490; '07, $125; '08, $50; '09, $1,050 ($500 is the proceeds of If I Were King); '10, $460; '11, $908; '12, $505; '13, $339 as undergraduates and $100 as graduating gift. In addition, the Undergraduates raised $375 by the 1913 Play; $50 by the Glee Club Concert; $300 from the Greek Games; $150 from the Students' Exchange; $1,066 from the County Fair, $905 from the Solar System, and $100 from the Brick Fund of 1911-12. From other sources there has come $217,820.00 of which $200,000 is a pledge from the General Educational Board to the Endowment Fund to be paid when the remainder of the $1,000,000 is raised; and $10,000 is a gift from Mrs. Woerisher.

Territorial clubs are forming to arouse interest as well as money. Chairman Isabel McKenzie of the Orange Club announces a Bridge and 500 Party for December 5th. The Staten Island Club, Edith Handy, Chairman, plans a concert by the New York University Glee Club on December 3rd. The Mt. Vernon Committee, with Mrs. George Close at its head, seized an opportunity to give a dramatic entertainment with paid talent on November 14th, and cleared $50. In Jersey City Agnes Dickson and twenty other alumnae raised $157 at a card medley and cake sale held in the Bergen School for girls, which was kindly donated by the principal. The Montclair girls have just organized under Mrs. Preston Jones.

THE JUNE REUNION

The festivities began with the Trustees' Luncheon at Brooks which was, as usual, a great success. Most of the alumnae lingered around the campus till it was time to dress for the Parade. Every year more interest is shown in the Costume Parade which, started by the Class of 1904 in 1911, has won a place for itself among annual alumnae events. Fair weather on June fourth made the campus possible, and the terrace was crowded with interested on-lookers when a brass band struck up for the marching. Every class but 1906 was represented, and each so cleverly gotten up, that it seemed no ideas could have been left for another year. The "Pioneers of Morningside," 1898, told on well-drawn placards, that they were the first to have a Dean, the first to have caps and gowns, the first to print a "Mortarboard." "Barnard's Hardy Perennials" 1902, were dressed as sunflowers. 1908, as an "Illustrated Song Book," showed among other literal interpretations, "the waters of the Hudson" carried in a dish-pan. 1910 had enough local colour to satisfy even the English Department, for it showed Faithful Rose, the predecessor of Violet, a study in Braun, booklets pink, and the golden future in which Brooks has wings. The Futurists, 1912, dressed as June brides and escorted one groom and a minister. The newest Alumnae, 1913, brought good luck in the shape of four-leaved clovers. Five classes showed phases of the Quarter Century Fund Campaign. 1901, led by the Barnard Bear was dressed in green-backs and wore crowns of golden eagles. 1904, Fortune Tellers, prophesied a campus that would stretch from Riverside to Morningside. 1905 were Money-bags, and 1911, Beggar Students in rags, were led around by a poor animal which begged for help for a poor dog without a s(cent). The judges, Dean Gildersleeve, Mrs. Liggett, and Miss Weeks, found it difficult to choose the classes for honorable mention; but with one accord everyone present awarded the Banner to 1903 for its International Exhibit of Modern Portraits. Cubist pictures of Faculty pets were recognized amid great applause, and shouts of laughter greeted "Le Provost descendant l'escalier." His shingled-covered raiment made assistance necessary when he wished to sit down, and it clattered till the corridors resounded when he actually did descend the stairs. First honorable mention was given to the "343 Club" who in old-time costumes, mits, cork-screw curls, and fetching bonnets, curteysed sedately to the judges. Second honorable mention was awarded to the Pirates of 1909, who had most elaborate costumes and fittings. Brown of skin and fiercely bewhiskered, they sailed a pirate ship, bore down upon a white sailboat and after a desperate struggle captured $2,000,000 which they laid at the feet of the judges.

After the parade most of the classes adjourned to Barnard for class suppers. Still later there was singing in the corridors and on the campus.

ANNUAL BUSINESS MEETING

The Annual Business Meeting of the Associate Alumnae was held in Brinckerhoff Theatre on Saturday morning,

October 25. The reports of officers and directors showed a remarkably active and successful year. Mrs. Mullan, President of the Association, reported that the Directors had been chiefly concerned with Barnard's relations in the Intercollegiate Bureau of Occupations and with devices for raising the Quarter Century Fund.

The Treasurer reported a balance as follows: Sinking Fund, $598.75; Dormitory Surplus, $3,758.20; Life Membership, $1,024.90; Students' Aid, $6,325.

Miss Long reported for the Membership Committee that disappointingly few new members had joined during the last year. She urged that notices of marriages, deaths and changes of address be sent to her promptly.

Miss Parsons reported for the Students' Aid Committee that during 1912-13, $868.50, $125.00 of which was loaned on short time notes, was granted. She also called attention to the fact that the Fund is now under the control of the Association Treasurer who remits twice a year to the Committee Treasurer.

Miss Baldwin, of the By-Laws and Printing Committee, moved that (1) Article VI. be amended to include the Committee on Athletics among the Standing Committees; (2) That the Committee be composed of three members elected by the Directors for a three year term. The motion was duly carried.

Miss Allen, of I. B. O., stated Barnard's obligation to contribute its share to the support of the Bureau for at least another year. The Bureau is successfully placing graduates and attracting employers, but to conduct the investigations into the possibilities of new fields requires capital. All the other colleges concerned, although represented only by their New York Clubs, contribute liberally and for Barnard to withdraw would be disgraceful. "We must raise our share, for we are under moral obligation not to withdraw our support." It was thereupon duly moved, seconded and carried: "That A. A. of B. C. remain a co-operating member of the Intercollegiate Bureau of Occupations for at least one year more."

Miss Berg, of the Alumnae Investigation Committee, described the various devices used by different colleges to keep in touch with their alumnae; paid secretaries, alumnae magazines, territorial clubs, etc.

Miss Sackett, of the Statistics Committee, reported that in co-operation with the college, reply postals were sent to all graduates. 88 failed to reply but information about 29 of these was secured. Of the 1,089 graduates, 425 or 39 per cent. are engaged in teaching; 168 or 15.8 per cent. hold remunerative positions in other fields; 55 or 5 per cent. are students; 262 or 24 per cent. are married with no fixed occupation outside the home; 185 or 17 per cent. are unmarried with no fixed occupation outside the home.

Miss Dickson, of the Employment Committee, reported that much had been done to advertise the work of the Committee and to bring to the attention of the Undergraduates, lines of work other than teaching. 234 applications from employers had been received by Miss Doty of which 112 were filled, netting a total amount earned, of $17,181.00. Lack of space forbids our reprinting in full this interesting report but we call attention to the fact that there is a demand for experienced elementary school teachers and for secretaries.

The Association voted to become an affiliated member of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae. This means that the A. A. of B. C. with its 800 members is represented by one member in the Council of the A. C. A. and by 8 voting delegates to the biennial meetings. All members of the A. A. may attend these biennial meetings and take part in the discussions. The financial cost is $10 a hundred or major fraction thereof. After Miss Francis, Secretary of the A. C. A., had presented to the meeting the wide interests of the A. C. A. it was unanimously agreed to be money well spent.

The officers and directors for the year 1913-14 are as follows: President, Mrs. Sigmund Pollitzer, '93; First V. P., Mrs. J. E. Frame, '04; Second V. P., Miss M. A. Miller, '08; Secretary, Mrs. R. Lawrence, '02; Treasurer, Mrs. Earl Hadley, '07; Assist. Treas., Miss Amy Loveman, '01; Auditor, Miss Marion Latham, '03; Clerk, Miss Adeline C. Wheelock, '97.

Directors: E. Allen, '02; Mrs. C. S. Baldwin, '95; A. D. Brewster, '06; E. vom Baur, '09; Mrs. C. Chapman, '00; Miss P. Dederer, '01; L. Eggleston, '10; Mrs. J. E. Frame, '04; Miss C. Howard, '03; Mrs. F. Keeler, '04; Mrs. J. L. Laidlaw, '02; M. A. Miller, '08; M. Polhemus, '11; Mrs. E. Van Riper, '97.

The Chairmen of the Standing Committees are: Finance, Mrs. E. J. Frame; Statistics, Amy Loveman; Students' Aid, Mabel Parsons; Membership, Doris Long; Nominating, Louisa Sillcox; Reunion, Miss J. Pratt; Undergraduate Interests, M. A. Miller; By-Laws and Printing, F. T. Baldwin; Athletics, L. Schoedler, of Special Committees; Employment, A. L. Dickson; Publicity, C. E. Morgan; Intercollegiate Bureau of Occupations, E. Allen; Alumnae Information, C. de L. Berg.

COMMITTEE ON ATHLETICS.

Alumnae athletics have proved a "howling" success. Such interest was displayed last winter and spring that the Committee has undertaken a much larger enterprise. It decided to abandon its work in connection with the extension evenings at Thompson Gymnasium that were open to all, and to arrange instead for an evening which should be open exclusively to college graduates. At first it was planned to include only Barnard alumnae, but the Committee were quick to see the attractiveness of establishing a big intercollegiate alumnae athletic center, with Barnard as the leader, and then and there decided to work out its plans along intercollegiate lines, still keeping the committee a Barnard committee, and making it clear that the enterprise was a Barnard affair in which the other colleges were asked to coöperate. Thompson Gymnasium authorities took up the idea with great zest, and after many conferences, the Alumnae Committee on Athletics was finally able to announce that for a fee of five dollars, the Gymnasium would be open on Monday evenings, from November to the beginning of April, to all college graduates who wanted to come there for basket-ball, bowling, dancing, gymnastics, handball and swimming.

The response to this announcement was overwhelming, and in a very few days the Chairman was swamped with applications for membership. People wanted to join because of the chance for exercise in congenial company; because they wanted the opportunity to meet alumnae from other colleges, and most of all because they wanted a place where, after working hours, they could get away from business into another atmosphere and relax.

It soon became evident that there would be more applications than the Committee could consider, and the question arose as to whether arrangements would have to be made to open the Gymnasium for more than one evening a week. The Committee considered this question, and decided that, on the whole, it would be wiser, because of the newness of the enterprise, to work it out on an intensive rather than an extensive scale.

Lack of accommodations have made it necessary to restrict the number of members to 110, admitted on a strictly "first come, first served" basis. The final list includes alumnae from more than fifteen colleges, among which are Barnard, Bryn Mawr, Smith, Vassar, Mt. Holyoke, Wells, Wellesley, Wesleyan, Goucher, Randolph-Macon, Oberlin, Brown, Michigan, Cornell, Elmira, Iowa State and the University of Wisconsin.

In addition to the Monday alumnae athletic evenings, the Committee has made arrangements with one of the leading academies to conduct a class in horseback riding on Thursday evenings throughout the winter. The rates will be $10 for six two-hour rides, and will include instruction for beginners. The Committee plans, among other things, to continue the indoor polo and basket-ball on horse-back which was begun last year, and to work up college teams in these sports. The low rates, and the fact that girls are able to ride in middy blouses and bloomers instead of habits have attracted a great many alumnae who would not otherwise be able to afford the expense.

Financially, as well as every other way, alumnae athletics have been a success. The Committee, though little more than a half year old, is already self-supporting, and is asking for no appropriation from the Alumnae Association for the coming year.

Plans for next year are extensive, but indefinite, and more will be said of them at another time. As soon as the winter is over, however, and summer makes indoor work less desirable, the Committee plans to carry everything straight out-of-doors, and to make arrangements for outdoor horseback riding, hockey, tennis, baseball, and perhaps a series of weekend hikes!

UNDERGRADUATE INTERESTS

The undergraduates seem to be chiefly concerned in reform and reorganization. The charter system as here briefly summarized, governs all social organizations, and also the classes and Brooks Hall. In this way Student Council and the Faculty Committee on Student Organization can keep in touch with all clubs and see that their financial status is sound.

Charter System

1. No organization or club, except the Undergraduate Association, may exist in Barnard College unless chartered by the Student Council with approval of the Faculty Committee on Student Organization.

2. Charters shall be granted for periods of one, two, or three years. Class organizations shall be chartered for a period of four years.

3. Students who desire to organize a club of any kind shall apply in writing to the Student Council. They shall submit to the Student Council a statement of the purpose of the proposed organization, the amount of its dues, the requirements for membership, and the number of meetings desired.

4. If a Charter is granted by the Student Council, a finished draft of the constitution of the organization shall be submitted for the final approval of the Council. If this draft of the constitution is not in accordance with the first statement approved by the Council, and if the organization shall refuse to make any changes recommended by the Council, the Council shall have power to withdraw the Charter.

5. It is understood that for the next three years such fraternity chapters as choose to retain their present organization, will be required, in applying for charters, to submit as much of the information required under Sections 3 and 4 as their national organization will permit.

To be printed in Blue Book annually.

The recently formed Dramatic Association under its new and taking name of "Wigs and Cues" is playing an important part in college activities. A girl's eligibility depends exclusively on her ability as an actress or her efficiency as a stage manager or property mistress. The aim of the charter members is to have the girls seek to join and not the club seek the girls. Last week Mr. Edwin Arden of the Lambs Club spoke on "How an Actor Gets Into His Part"; in January, the association is to hear Mr. Frohman. This meeting will be in the evening and will be by invitation. It is hoped that the English actor Cyril Maude will be the society's guest, but that is uncertain.

NOTICE

Life Members.

Miss Long of the Membership Committee requests that all alumnae who became Life Members of the Association last year and this year send her their names. Her address is 42 Lenox Road, Brooklyn.

ODD FELLOWS TAKE NOTICE

The Class of 1911 is offering a prize of five dollars ($5.00) for an Odd Fellows song. The words may be serious or non-serious, and should be set to a well-known tune. Any member of an odd class may compete. All contributions should be sent to Lillian Schoedler, 249 West 107 St., on or before January 15, 1914.

ALUMNAE ACTIVITIES

The Class of 1908 presented Brooks with a piano, as its five year gift. And in addition it contributed $100 to the Endowment Fund.

The College Club of Jersey City, to which twenty Barnard girls belong, held a successful concert on Oct. 29. Paderewski was the sole performer, and although almost $2,000 was paid for his services, the club was able to add $1,200 to its scholarship fund. Five girls are in college this year as beneficiaries of this fund, two of them at Barnard.

'98 Jessie W. Hughan has published a second volume, The Facts of Socialism.

'01 M. Olive Barrick is recording secretary of the College Club of Jersey City.

'04 Mrs. W. S. Watson (Rose Johnston) is Principal of the Barnard Elementary School.
